For Congress, 15th District,
H. C. VAN VOORHIS, of Muskingum Co.

Just now all Cincinnati has gone daft over the divine healer, Schrader.
That worthy, who is certainly an interesting character, and probably harmless, has blessed thousands of the Queen City's afflicted mortals. If he hasn't cured them of their ails, he has certainly done them no harm.

Gen. Grosvenor's Latest Figures.

Washington, March 30.—Representative Grosvenor of Ohio last night gave out his weekly statement of McKinley's strength. This is the vote by States, according to Grosvenor's latest calculation: Alabama 4, Arkansas 4, Florida 3, Georgia 15, Illinois 4, Indiana 30, Kansas 30, Louisiana 8, Minnesota 18, Mississippi 18, Missouri 10, New York 4, Ohio 46, South Carolina 2, Texas 12, South Dakota 8, West Virginia 2, Indian Territory 4, Wisconsin 24, New Mexico 4; total 255.

"I have taken great pains in this matter," said Gen. Grosvenor. "The extraordinary table that was sent out from Washington Saturday for the encouragement of the friends of another candidate, suggested to me the propiety of the greatest possible accuracy in making my statement at this time, and I sent telegrams to all of the States in which there is any possibility of controver, and have received answers from the distinguished Republicans connected with the party organization in the several States.

"The States which are yet to elect, and in which there will be practically solid McKinley delegations, give the most ample assurance that he will pass the middle line of the aggregate and have a good margin for contingencies and accidents."

PADEREWSKI'S DAILY LIFE.

How the Great Pianist Keeps in Perfect Condition for His Work.

Paderewski rises, as a rule, about ten o'clock on days when he does not give a concert or is traveling, writes John J. a Becket in an article upon the great pianist's daily life in March Ladies' Home Journal. On days when he is to play in the evening he rises at one. By way of morning meal he takes a cup of coffee or tea—nothing else, not even a roll or morsel of bread. He practices usually for five or six hours each day on a piano which he has sent to his room in the hotel as soon as he arrives in a city. When he has an afternoon concert he does not practice at all, however, and if the concert is an evening one he devotes only two or three hours to exercising on the keyboard. In order to strengthen his fingers he plays only five-finger exercises. Like a prize-fighter who is in training this musical athlete devotes himself to a systematic course of gymnastics for strengthening all of the physical powers which are called into play by his performances at the piano.
Those long, slender, "piano" fingers are put through their paces until they acquire strength, flexibility, agility and staying power. His magnificent technique is not maintained without his constant fostering and lubricating of its springs. This little band of five faithful servants which each hand commands is in tenure to a wrist like steel. But his arms also have to be strengthened. For this purpose he employs an apparatus which he designed and had made himself. What this is he knows, and nobody else.

Pretty soon the voice of the bicycle man will be lifted up in the clamor for good roads. To the extent which the voice is heard, the bicycle is a public benefactor. It would hardly be too much to say that the bicycle man in this one respect is worth nearly as much to the country as any other class of people. For he is emphatic in his persistence, and he is big for his size.
He knows what he must have to make his enjoyment of his bicycle a success, and he knows that what he wants is the thing that the whole country needs as much as he does, although other people are not aware of it. He has the advantage of youth and vigor, for it is young men who take to the bicycle, and with that energy of active life, he carries on aggressive warfare for what he wants. The bicycle man is after good roads, and if he doesn't get what he is after sooner or later it will be the first time that an army of active and enthusiastic young Americans ever saw their banner trailed in the dust.

VANVOORHIS,

The Man From Muskingum, Knocks the Persimmons.

Nominated on the First Ballot, Which Stood 130 to 72.

Barr and Miller Chosen as Delegates, and Galtree and Stanberry as Alternates to the National Convention.

It took but one ballot to do it, but it was done most effectually.

The supporters of Mr. Davis made a gallant fight, but they went down before VanVoorhis by the sheer force of the latter's popularity and the splendid organization of his forces throughout the district. But there will be no kickers, no animosities, no knives, visible or invisible.

Washington county got the worst of it, but she will zealously stand by the guns of Republicanism, and in the ides of November will present Mr. Van Voorhis a larger Republican majority than any other county in the district.

As stated in the Leader Tuesday, the battle was on Monday night, with Guernsey the keystone of the situation. It was known that Taylor had lost in many precincts of his own county, but the exact extent of the inroads made could not be ascertained.
Could 23 votes from Guernsey have been delivered for Davis his nomination could have been effected. At one time the Davis vote came within two of the number required, but these two could not be secured, and many of the Davis men in Morgan and Noble climbed on the band wagon.

Taylor withdrew from the race Tuesday morning, and threw his strength to Davis, but the combination could not win.

The Washington county delegation caucused, and were given their credentials by Mr. Davis. They chose John S. McCallister chairman, and Dr.
C. E. Athey member of the Committee on Credentials, Dr. E. H. Trickle on Resolutions, B. E. Guyton on Permanent Organization, W. B. McGill on Rules and Order of Business, and Geo.
Lauer, District Committeeman. It was decided to cast the vote of the delegation as a unit on all questions.

The convention was called to order by Temporary Chairman Dana at 11:30, and after the announcement of committees adjourned to 1:30 p. m.

Upon reassembling the committee on Permanent Organization reported, making the temporary organization permanent. The committees on Resolutions and Rules and Order of Business also made their reports without delay. The committee on Credentials was out two hours, and finally made two reports, the majority vote seating a contested VanVoorhis delegate in Muskingum and Noble, being adopted by the entire convention.

While this committee was out, nominating speeches were called for. R. L.
Holland ably presented the name of Mr. VanVoorhis; B. E. Guyton performing the same office for Davis in an eloquent and taking address.

For Presidential Elector the name of Cyril Hawkins, of Morgan, was announced by ex-Senator Abbott.

For National Delegate were presented the names of James R. Barr, of Guernsey, and David Miller, of Noble.
E. M. Stanberry, of Morgan, was presented for alternate, also A. D. Alderman, of Washington.

It became evident before the first ballot that although Mr. Davis could come within two of the nomination, he could not win, and Mr. VanVoorhis's nomination was assured. The vote was not an indication of the real strength of the candidates, Morgan county dividing her vote, which under other circumstances was solid for Davis. Noble's eight Davis votes also went to VanVoorhis, along with eight of the same kind from Guernsey, both desiring to get in with the winner. The ballot was as follows:

	VanV.	Davis.
Guernsey.....	28	10
Morgan.....	13	12
Muskingum.....	67
Noble.....	25
Washington.....		50
	130	72

Col. Hawkins was chosen Elector under suspension of the rules, though Leland, of Noble, tried to turn him down by announcing J. S. Adair, of McConnellsville, who was abnoxious to the entire Morgan delegation. Abbot made a brilliant speech and the Leland move was prevented.

In a brief pointed speech M. W.
Cline, of Washington, presented the name of J. H. Grafton for Delegate.
Mr. Grafton was given the solid vote of both Washington and Morgan, but naturally the Noble and Guernsey people were to be taken care of by the VanVoorhis forces, and Barr and Miller were named.

For Alternate E. M. Stanberry had no opposition, but the Washington delegation did not appear to want Mr.
Alderman any more than Morgan wanted Adair. The name of W. B.
Galtree as Washington's candidate, was presented, despite that gentleman's protest, and he was elected with a hurrah.

A committee appointed for the purpose escorted Mr. VanVoorhis to the convention hall, where he made an eloquent address, thanking the convention for the honor conferred upon him.
The meeting closed with general good feeling prevailing.

FOR A MONTH

At Least, William Paul's Neck is Saved
From the Hangman's Noose.

COLUMBUS, O., March 31.—Gov. Bushnell Monday evening granted a respite of 30 days to William Paul, who was to have been executed in the penitentiary annex between twelve and one o'clock Tuesday morning. This action was taken at the earnest request of Senator Tinsandier, of Brown county, in which the murder was committed. It is claimed by Senator Tinsandier that the state board of pardons never took proper actions in reference to the case.
According to the claim of the senator the board failed to consider several important documents presented as evidence tending to show that he was innocent.

REMARKABLE WEDDING.

Twin Brothers Marry Twin Sisters Near Wooster, O.

WOOSTER, O., March 31.—A most remarkable wedding took place at the residence of Widow Repp, across the Wayne county line, in the southwestern part of Harrisville township, Medina county. The contracting parties were Vernon R. Star, of Barbark, Wayne county, and Irene V. Repp, and Vestal H. Star and Idena V. Repp.
The remarkable feature about this double wedding is that the grooms are twin brothers and the brides twin sisters. Rev. N. Lewis, of Barbark, performed the ceremony in the presence of the family, relatives and neighbors. A fine wedding supper followed.

THE OLD MISER

Who was Robbed of $50,000 at Chicago Said to Be Dying.

MARION, O., March 31.—Mrs. Susan Baker, the oldest of the pioneer settlers of this city and county, is dead. She was born in 1798. In 1819 she married Joseph Wilson, who died in 1837. Six children were the result of that union, and all of whom have died except one daughter. In 1845 she married Eber Baker, who founded this city. Mr.
Baker died in 1864. Mrs. Baker's 97th birthday anniversary in 1895 was celebrated by her children of five generations.

THE SPOTS ON THE SUN.

What the Scientists Think About Their Influence on Our Weather.

The vexed question of the influence of sun-spots on the weather seems to be as far from settlement to-day as it was ten or twenty years ago, says the Youth's Companion. So great an authority as Lord Kelvin has recently expressed a doubt as to whether the coincidences noticed by students of this subject are not, after all, deceptive and misleading. Other investigators, however, continue to think that a real connection exists between the spottedness of the sun and the condition of the weather on the earth.

Among the latest contributions to our knowledge on the subject are those made by Mr. W. L. Dallas, who has investigated the weather records kept from 1856 to 1879 on board ships in the Bay of Bengal, and by Dr. P. Polis, who has reviewed the records of 64 years at Aix-la-Chapelle. Mr. Dallas concludes that, as far as the Bay of Bengal is concerned, the heat is greatest when sun-spots are most numerous. Dr.
Polis, on the other hand, finds that at Aix-la-Chapelle the warmest seasons formerly coincided with the smallest number of sun-spots, but that since 1878 a change has apparently occurred and now it is hottest when the sun is most spotted. Dr. Polis also finds that the number of thunder storms generally increases with a decrease of the sun-spots.

These facts and inferences are particularly interesting just now, because from this time on we are likely to see the sun-spots rapidly decreasing in size and number for several years to come.

TWO REASONS.

The Judge's Able Support of His Own Decision.

At a circuit court held some years ago in a western state an action of ejectment was tried "by the court without a jury." The decision rendered was couched in such a way that it caused considerable amusement.

The suit was brought, says the Youth's Companion, by a religious society to recover possession of a cemetery. The defendant was a physician in active practice, who, as one of a committee appointed by the church, had bought the ground for the use of the society.

Afterward he severed his connection with the society, and it was found that he had taken the title in his own name, and intended to appropriate the premises for his private use. The defendant insisted that he had bought the ground in his own right after his relations to the society had ceased.

The court, after hearing the evidence and arguments, proceeded to state the grounds for his decision, and ordered judgment for the plaintiff. Whereupon the defendant's counsel arose, and asked the court to state more fully the reasons for the decision.

"Certainly," said his honor, promptly.
"But as you have heard what I have said, I have only two additional reasons to give: One is that the church seems to need a cemetery, and the other that the doctor has failed to show that his practice is sufficiently large to make it necessary for him to keep a burying ground of his own."

An exchange says "e" is the most unfortunate letter in the English alphabet, "because it is never in luck, never out of debt and never out of danger." Our exchange forgets that the aforesaid letter is never in war and always in peace; it is the commencement of existence, the beginning of ease and the end of trouble; without it there would be no bread, no meat, no water, no life.
